

After cutting the heart, line up the drawn lines with the scoring groove on your paper cutter and score with a bone folder.

(I made the lines paler toward the center so they don't show through on the right side if you're using white cardstock)

